AROGYA PLUS (MHU)

Introduction

PUSPAC seeks to provide accessible, affordable, equitable and quality health care to the population in rural and inaccessible areas. In doing so, it has a focus on the marginalized sections of society which tends to get excluded from the reach of the public health service delivery mechanism. This is so as the existing public health service infrastructure is poor in these areas because of which, it is not possible to provide the desired set of public health services. To bridge this gap in infrastructure, various interventions such as Mobile Health Units (MHUs) have been introduced.

In this background, it has been through for special strategy for delivery of a set of public health services in these inaccessible and conflict areas having strong presence of Left Wing Extremists (LWE). This strategy is being conceptualized as Project Arogya – successfully implemented on pilot basis in Salimi of Mathili block under Malkangiri District.

Objectives:

- To provide primary, preventive, curative and primitive health care services and referral health services to the people in the designated area.
- To co-ordinate the district local public health system to achieve MMR and IMR etc.
- Prevention and control of communicable diseases.
- To build up the capacities of the GKS and establish community level monitoring system for effective management of the programme.
