GENESIS

Social development urge of some youths and exposure to development ideas as well practices of the state brings foundation of PUSPAC on 1994 in the district of Malkangiri of Orissa with a mission to display active social work for the poorest of poor. Eventually, the development journey made the structure of People's united for Social Participation and Awareness Centre (PUSPAC) in right shape through group Discussion, sharing of experience and round table talks. The foundation of PUSPAC is laid on the ethics & principles that based upon "the spirit of action carried on with own force will for welfare and development of common populace and natural society" as per the thought of great thinker Binoba Vabe & also based on the non-violence principles of Gandhiji. Initially PUSPAC was implementing development programme under the affiliation of various mother NGOs, thereafter, the organization got its registration under Society Registration Act, 1860 to work among the tribal poor people in some selected village of Malkangiri districts of Orissa. The growth of PUSPAC has two distinct stages the earlier stage where community organization and awareness education & conventional education has been emphasized and in the new stage was emerged from 2000, March after registration of FCRA where an integration has been attempted between the community organization, empowerment of community based organizations, and the income generation programme through thrift & credit movement which include micro-finance.

PUSPAC in its first interaction with the villagers of Govindpalli GP in Khoirput Block was traced diverse problems that draw constant action to mitigate the problems through adequate management of local resources and the efforts are still going on. Interaction with the communities and specially the tribal villagers was not very encouraging but PUSPAC did not loose patience and hope. This backdrop has
